

As an England fan, I will of course be watching the big match this evening and what a historic occasion it will be... I was only 1 when England last made it through to a major final.

As a Preston North End fan and after dragging my children up and down the country to 10 years of play off semi finals and a couple of amazing finals (Wembley and Cardiff)... I know that part of the tales we tell are about how late we got back and how we still got up and went to school the next morning! I love that tired but happy feeling.

SO... I am in two minds about the later start that some schools are having tomorrow!

Year 5 and 6 have to be in early as they are going to Robinwood, the staff have to be in early, as usual, but if you really think that YOUR CHILD needs a lie in (not you!) because they have watched the match then I won't be issuing late marks until 10am. PLEASE MAINTAIN SOCIAL DISTANCING if you are lining up with children from another bubble at your normal gate.

Regardless of the result this evening, all children may wear their national colours tomorrow to celebrate all the teams that got to Euro 2020/21.
#c'monEngland